MIGRATE

IBM® Notes® Application Migration.

What gets migrated?

Migrating a Notes® and Domino® environment is hard to do. Notes and Domino formed a comprehensive groupware environment with numerous benefits including a rapid application development environment that even today, alternate platforms fail to match.

We appreciate the power that Notes and Domino had and have designed DOCOVA® to specifically support the migration of Notes applications.

At DOCOVA®, we've put in the hard work to create a modern collaboration platform, the migration tools, and a methodology that works. The result is the most complete end-to-end solution on the market for migrating your legacy Notes and Domino environment.

Being the most Notes compatible platform means less time, less cost, less training, less risk and the ability to move forward developing useful, powerful applications.

The DOCOVA App Importer™ migration tool is extensive, migrating everything from user interface, security and business logic to database schema and data.

User Interface (UI)

From forms and views to outlines and images, the DOCOVA App Importer will migrate your Notes applications and modernize them to run in all browsers.

Business Logic

The DOCOVA App Importer's deep capabilities convert LotusScript® libraries and agents supported by DOCOVA's JSON based API and object model. @formula and @command languages are converted to DOCOVAScript™.

Security

DOCOVA supports a security model very similar to what was found in Notes. Everything from application ACLs to Readers and Authors fields and controlled access sections are migrated and supported in DOCOVA.

Database Schema

Database schema's are automatically rebuilt. No need to re-engineer and re-create table structures and relationships. DOCOVA's App Importer does that for you.

Data

Of course data. Whether you're doing a full blown migration of a Notes app, or just archiving it, DOCOVA migrates all field data, richtext, doclinks and attachments.

Partner with DOCOVA's team of migration experts to do this right.

Your success is our success.
