

Transformation METHODOLOGY

The Most Complete, End-to-End Notes Application Migration Solution

For years, Notes applications have been the driving force behind many businesses helping them to collaborate and coordinate information critical to their business objectives. No two businesses are the same and Notes applications have helped companies to be competitive in they way that they do business.

However, Notes and Domino have not kept pace with today's modern workforce and it's time to leave. But who can you turn to? Most migration solutions are only partial solutions that aim to set low expectations or encourage you to retire or re-build your applications, while others direct businesses toward an incompatible environment where high costs and functionality compromises are the order of the day.

It's time to do this right!

At DOCOVA, we've put in the hard work of creating a modern low-code/no-code business application platform with the most compatible tools and path required to make migrating your legacy Notes/Domino environment the most complete end-to-end solution on the market today.

With our rock solid "transformation methodology" , advanced tools and platform, let our migration experts help transform your business by driving down the time, cost and risk of moving off your Notes and Domino environment

The Transformation METHODOLOGY

DOCVA's end-to-end Transformation Methodology leverages a framework and set of powerful tools for analyzing, planning, migrating and managing the entire transition off your legacy Notes/Domino environment.

ANALYZE

Our application analysis tools are geared toward delivering information specific to the DOCOVA platform like no other, helping drive down time, costs and risk.

PLAN

After the analysis is complete we will help you build a custom roadmap and set in motion a plan that suits your needs as an organization aiming to mitigate risks and control costs associated with this complex project.

MIGRATE

Being the most Notes compatible platform means less time, less cost, less training, less risk, and no process re-engineering when migrating your Notes apps. Our migration tools are extensive, migrating everything from user interface , security and business logic to database schema and data. The solution can be hosted on Microsoft Azure, AWS, the DOCOVA cloud on-premises and more.

MANAGE

Modify and update migrated apps, create new apps and administer and manage them moving forward on the DOCOVA platform.

Partner with DOCOVA's team of migration experts to do this right.
